CRUP CONQUERED
EVERY MOTHER SHOULD READ AND REMEMBER THIS

In any home where a child has it tendency to cry, a bottle of HYOMEI will cure it. High-spirited should be kept constantly on hand.

A sudden attack of croup with difficult breathing and extreme distress is apt to come on at any time.

The course to be pursued is plain. Send for your doctor at once, and in the meantime drop in drops of HYOMEI into a bowl of boiling water, and hold the child's head over it; cover with a towel or cloth so that only the air filled with Hyomei vapor is breathed.

This method of treatment has saved many a child's life, and mothers of young children should see to it that Hyomei is always on hand. Full instructions for prompt relief of croup is in each package.

A few bottles of HYOMEI is all you need in treating croup. This is known as all drug stores as Extra Bottle Hyomei. J. H. O'Reilly Co., and distributor everywhere sell it. Hyomei HYOMEI It is guaranteed to cure croup, croup, sore throat, bronchitis, coughs and colds, we never back.

HAPPYS SETTLED
SCORE WITH BROWNS

One of the Biggest Crowds of Season See Juveniles in Fast Game at Luna Park Sunday Afternoon.

One of the largest crowds of the present season saw the Happys yesterday afternoon settle their score with the Browns of Old Albuquerque when the cycle aggregation took the former by a score of 12 to 10. It was a fast game. At some time the Happys had the score 12 to 1 but it must be said that the Browns were the better team. Mr. Harlan and Mr. Warnock will return to St. Louis tonight.

MRS. BLAKE IS LAID TO REST

Beloved Resident of Albuquerque Succumbs to Long Illness; Funeral Held This Morning.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Blake, who died Saturday evening, took place this morning at 8 o'clock at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Requiem mass was said by Rev. A. M. Mundakari, S. J. The Married Ladies' society, of which Mrs. Blake was a member, attended the funeral in a body. Interment was in Santa Barbara cemetery.

The death of Mrs. Blake removed from the community one of the most devoted and beautiful characters, and she will be mourned by a host of friends and admirers in Albuquerque. The deceased had lived in Albuquerque about eleven years, and in that time had endeared herself to all who came in contact with her. For years she had been a constant sufferer, but through all her pain she bore up with Christian fortitude, and had a cheerful manner for all who surrounded her. A devout Christian and an active church worker, she will be sadly missed by those who survive her.

Mrs. Blake was originally from Oswego, N. Y., but had lived in Albuquerque long enough to gather around her a large circle of devoted friends. She is survived by a son, John Blake, a brother, Mr. Miller, of New York city, and a niece, Mrs. Miller.

N. R. Schick

N. R. Schick of Durango, Colo., 25 years old, died last night at his apartment after a lengthy illness. The father of the deceased will arrive in Albuquerque today and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Daniel Staley

Daniel Staley, 27 years old, died at 1 o'clock Saturday morning at his rooms on the Highlands. Mr. Staley's home was in Kansas City, but he had been in Albuquerque for several months. The funeral arrangements will be announced upon the arrival of instructions from relatives of the deceased.

James Clark

James Clark of Wichita, Kan., died on Saturday at his rooms in the Highlands. The deceased was 37 years old, and is survived by a widow and one son. Funeral services will be held at the residence, 521 North Fifth street, Tuesday afternoon. The services will be in charge of the Masons, of which order Mr. Clark was an earnest and loyal member. The remains will be taken Wednesday morning to Glendale, Ill., the former home of the deceased.

THE WEATHER.
Tonight and Tuesday late; not much change in temperature.

It is the greatest interest to Albuquerque and vicinity in the announcement of the reorganization of the Southwestern Irrigation, Land and Power company, which controls one of the largest and most important irrigation and farming properties in New Mexico.

This company was incorporated under the laws of New Mexico in 1908, but for some reason has not been able to acquire the magnitude of property it desired, consisting of four thousand acres of good farming land in the vicinity of Los Lunas. Recently, however, the company has been reorganized and with abundant capital behind it has already begun the development of the property.

Under the reorganization plan the stock of the concern, which was originally capitalized at $100,000, is owned principally by St. Louis and Illinois capitalists. At a recent meeting of the stockholders the following directors were elected: Thomas G. Hartman, a leading member of the St. Louis bar, and member of the firm of Reynolds & Hartman; W. M. Warnock, a prominent attorney of Edwardsville, Ill.; H. H. Ferguson of Alton, Illinois, president and general manager of the Illinois Terminal company and general manager of the Illinois Glass company; E. M. Clark of Alton, Illinois, general manager of the Standard Oil company in charge of the Wood River refinery; G. H. Stevens of Clayton, Mo., and J. V. Stevens of Los Lunas, N. M. The officers of the reorganized company are: T. H. Hartman, president; H. H. Ferguson, vice president; W. M. Warnock, secretary, and E. M. Clark, treasurer. J. V. Stevens of Los Lunas has been placed in charge of the property as resident manager.

President Hartman, Secretary Warnock and General Manager Stevens have been in New Mexico for the past week attending to the details of the reorganization and dividing their time between Albuquerque and Los Lunas. When seen at the Alvarado today Mr. Hartman said:

The reorganized company has already started active operations, and we will have thousand acres in wheat and alfalfa this year, with the possibility the other crops may be put in later in the season. Next year we expect to add another thousand acres and to keep on until the entire tract of four thousand acres is under cultivation. The company has ample money behind it and will spared no expense to make this one of the most modern and productive properties in New Mexico or elsewhere. The entire tract is irrigated and the common sense ancient water rights for all of the land.

Guy Rogers, assistant cashier of the First National bank saw the Mexican revolution from El Paso Sunday. It was not much of a revolution.

Lawrence L. Levy has been confirmed as postmaster at Biblo, N. M., according to announcements received from Washington.

W. C. Hendrick, well known attorney, has returned from a trip to Socorro, where he went on legal business.

W. D. Shea, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, was here Saturday from his headquarters in Santa Fe.

E. L. Shaw, a government official with headquarters in Washington, is here in conference with livestock importers and forestry officials.

Mr. J. E. Boat, superintendent of the accident department of the Continental Life Insurance company, left this morning for a trip in the interests of the company.

E. W. Fox, well known feed man, returned yesterday from a short hunting trip atomic the Rio Grande. Mr. Fox put in most of his time hunting for something to hunt.

Mrs. H. M. Baldwin, of 117½ North First street, who has been confined to her home for the past two weeks by sickness, is convalescing and will probably be able to be out in a few days.

There will be a meeting of the civic improvement society Tuesday, March 21, at 8 p. m. sharp, at the central school building. Election of officers for coming year and plan of work outlined.

All members of the Fraternal Mystic Circle and their friends are invited to attend an open meeting in their hall, 317½ South Second street, this evening at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served. George E. Wickham, W. R.

John A. White

John A. White, well known attorney of Albuquerque, passed away at his home, No. 521 North Fourth street, last night at 9:30 o'clock after a lingering illness. While it was generally known that Mr. White had been in failing health for a long time, his death came more or less as a surprise, as it was not generally supposed that his condition at this time was critical.

Mr. White was in his 74th year, and had lived in Albuquerque about two years and a half. He was a ranked among the leading attorneys of the territory. For the last two years he had been associated in the practice with Mr. John M. Wilson, under the firm name of Wilson & White. He had been ill since last November.

Mr. White is survived by a widow and one son. Funeral services will be held at the residence, 521 North Fifth street, Tuesday afternoon. The services will be in charge of the Masons, of which order Mr. White was an earnest and loyal member. The remains will be taken Wednesday morning to Glendale, Ill., the former home of the deceased.

LEONARD GETS BIG AUDIENCE

An Interesting Lecture Given By Excellent Speaker on Christian Science in Elks' Theater Yesterday.

A large and appreciative audience gathered in the Elks' theater yesterday afternoon to hear Frank H. Leonard, C. S. B., explain the doctrines of Christian Science as laid down by the late Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy. The speaker is a man of fine ability as an orator and thinker, and he was given an attentive hearing throughout.

After being introduced to the gathering by President F. B. Schwentker of the Commercial club, Mr. Leonard said:

The chief mission of Christian Science is to show to every man, woman and child just as it did to me, that the belief that suffering is from the omnipotent and all-powerful God is untrue, giving increase from the suffering which legitimately goes with any such belief.

The law of God never pardons sin in the manner we have always believed in, in its changeless and inexorable nature demands that sin be forsaken before the penalty can be exacted, thus eliminating the apparent cause and effect at one and the same time.

Christian Science on this question as to what constitutes sin goes deeper than any teaching that the world accepts today. Christian Science teaches us that a man may seem to keep every one of the moral laws of the land, he may seemingly be one of the sweetest characters that the world knows, and yet be a sinner.

What do we mean when we say that sin, disease and death are unreal. Christian Science gives men just one standard whereby all things are measured, and that standard is God; and when anything presents itself to a Christian Scientist it is immediately measured by the standard of the perfection of God, and if in any particular it fails to measure up to that standard it is of necessity cast to one side as ungodly; and if it is ungodly it is not eternal, and if it is not eternal it is not real. Therefore, when a Christian Scientist says that sin, disease and death are not real, he is saying in other words that they are ungodly, unhygienic and unrighteous; that they constitute the things from which we are to be saved.

It does not seem possible that there is any one who believes that the Christian Scientists have ever thought of the leader of our movement as Christ. The meekness and humility of our leader in pointing us always from her and to Christ as our Shepherd, it seems to me, should have before now settled this question everlasting. Christ? No! Jesus of Nazareth? No! But one of the meekest and most humble followers our Master ever had on the surface of this earth!

INTEREST IN IRVINE GROWING VERY KEEN

Large Audience Is Expected to greet Man Who Left the Pulpit to Preach Political Economy As He Saw It.

Indications are that when Alexander Irvine appears at the Elks' opera house tomorrow night he will be greeted by a crowded house. There is widespread interest in Mr. Irvine in Albuquerque, and the city is fortunate in securing him. Of Irvine the outlook is bright.

All members of the Fraternal Mystic Circle and their friends are invited to attend an open meeting in their hall, 317½ South Second street, this evening at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served. George E. Wickham, W. R.
